Wanaka, Southern Lakes

4WD, High Country walks and photography safaris

Wanaka's spectacular raw natural environment. Along with a longstanding commitment to conservation and giving back to our unique environment ensures an unforgettable authentic experience.

A new Hands On Conservation Safari is celebrating a decade of Native Habitat Restoration at Glendhu Bay. A bare section of reserve land along Lake Wanaka is almost unrecognisable with a forest of tall native trees and shrubs showcasing what a purposeful native habitat restoration initiative can achieve. This site has seen over 450 native plants in the ground since 2012.

Off-Road Experiences

Words fail to describe how utterly spectacular this 4WD adventure through West Wanaka High and Dingleburn High Country Station is. Wild and empty silence, jaw-dropping mountain-top scenery with views for days are just the beginning. Participation in predator control conservation projects, yarns about farming life, and fascinating local history will leave a deep and lasting connection with the land. A great adventure the whole family will enjoy.

Departs 09.00am and 2.00pm | Duration 4 hours

Photography Tours

Wanaka is one of the most photographed destinations in New Zealand due to its outstanding natural beauty and clear air.

Walks on breathtaking high country stations in some spectacular locations that even the locals have never experienced. Get well off the beaten track exploring private backroads high into the mountains of West Wanaka or Dingleburn Station. The perfect mix of wide-open walking trails, alpine meadows, jaw-dropping scenery, and high-country farming life. You'll love helping out and learning about our predator control conservation project along the way too. A relaxed picnic lunch awaits atop Lookout Hill. Don't feel up to walking all day? No problem, 4WD support is available to jump in any time and enjoy the view and friendly banter with your guide. A safe, fun and active day of classic kiwi adventure the whole family can enjoy together.

Private walks

Reach some of New Zealand's most spectacular locations, including locations most Wanaka locals have never been to. Fly to the top of Roys Peak or hike both ways.

Hands on Conservation Safari

A tour designed to give groups, families or couples a chance to connect and actively give back to Wanaka's outstanding natural environment.
